Do you want to work with social development projects? Are you passionate about helping other people? And do you think mental health is interesting? Then you can become Inner Connect's new social work volunteer!

Inner Connect is an international non-profit organization that fights for the mental health of young women in the world. Our head office is located in Copenhagen, Denmark, but most of our projects and efforts take place in South Africa in the cities of Durban and Cape Town.

As a social work volunteer, you will, among other things:

- Hold programs for young women on mental health
- Help recruit participants for our programs
- Evaluate projects so that we create knowledge
- Help fight stigma

We offer the following:

- Experience with project management
- Opportunity for competence and capacity development
- Recommendation and reference

We expect you to be committed, independent and creative, and that you have the opportunity to participate in individual meetings each year. In addition, you must have access to either a telephone or a computer. If you are interested in becoming part of Inner Connect, please contact us. We are looking forward to hearing from you. Only applications from the local areas where we are present are included.
